

Teacher of Maths - Required for January 2020

Governors seek to appoint an excellent classroom practitioner who is dedicated to setting high expectations and achieving the highest standards for all. The successful candidate will be required to teach Maths across the age and ability range. They will be expected to contribute to the existing good practice of the department and to be part of the school's journey to being a great school by improving progress and attainment for all.

Ofsted, February 2019, stated:

- Teachers are now skilled at helping pupils to develop their mathematical reasoning and problem-solving skills. They question pupils thoughtfully, which is helping pupils to apply their mathematical understanding to different solutions. They carefully assess what pupils can and cannot do. This enables them to plan future learning which addresses gaps in understanding and to challenge those pupils that require more demanding work.
- Pupils are typically friendly and polite. Most show respect towards staff and each other.
- Pupils generally work hard during lessons.
- Middle leadership has developed significantly. Middle leaders are now closely supported by senior colleagues. They have strengthened systems for monitoring and evaluating the quality of teaching in their subjects. Some middle leaders, such as Heads of English and mathematics, have had a significant impact on improving teaching and pupils' outcomes.

If you are looking for a rewarding career with students who will respond positively to creative and engaging learning opportunities, then we would like to hear from you.
